PANTHER POST

FEBRUARY 2011

Dear Parents and Students,

As this is our first newsletter since the winter holidays, I want to wish everyone a Happy New Year. I look forward to 2011 being marked with many successful accomplishments throughout our school community.

As a reminder, please keep an eye out for your child's report card that will be issued on February 9th. Make sure to celebrate their successes and focus on any challenges as we make our way through the second half of the year.

With second semester well underway, enrollment for the 2011-2012 school year is right around the corner. We will begin the enrollment process with the recommitment of current students. To ensure your child has a seat for the new school year please complete the recommitment form either online or by submitting a hard copy to the homeroom teacher. Re-enrollment information will be included with your child's report card. Please be prompt in returning this important information. To ensure your child's spot for next year, it is imperative the recommitment letter be returned by the deadline date of Friday, February 25th.

In addressing extracurricular activities, our programs are very active. Fine Arts have multiple activities moving forward and we hope that many of you get an opportunity to see our talent. On the athletic front, our winter season is coming to an end with District competitions and our spring season is underway with practices taking place in all sports. In addition, our clubs are continually active and providing a great service to our community. Please check out our website for all of the current updates in these areas.

Finally, please be reminded the FCAT testing will begin in March with the writing assessment followed by the other assessments in early April. As you know, at Coral Springs Charter we focus on the Sunshine State Standards and believe all students who master these standards will perform at a proficient level or higher on the FCAT. If your child is experiencing academic difficulty, it is imperative you communicate with your child's teachers and guidance counselor to seek ways to further support your child.

Regards

Gary Springer, Principal

HOT TOPIC

In order to help serve your needs better, each month we will feature a question or concern that we would like your opinion on. All responses should be sent to:
feedback@coralspringscharter.org.

This month's topic: Communication – which form of communication do you feel works best: SIS, Email, Phone Call, In-Person, Newsletter, Other. Do you have any other suggestions for ways to communicate with the staff at Coral Springs Charter School?

November's topic: SIS – do you have trouble navigating SIS and if so what problems/concerns do you have? What improvements would you suggest?

We appreciate your input and feedback!!

6TH GRADE END OF THE YEAR FIELD TRIP

6th grade will again be heading to Orlando to visit Islands of Adventure this year in May 2011!! The price includes transportation, admission ticket, meal ticket, taxes and tip. Attendance on the trip is considered a reward for a job well done. Therefore, student attendance on the trip will be based on grades from the 2nd and 3rd quarters as well as discipline issues. Any student who has received a grade below a "C" on either of these quarters may be excluded from attendance. Any student who has had severe discipline issues may be excluded from attendance on the trip as well. Final decisions will be made by the administration. More information will be available in the coming months.

2011 MIDDLE SCHOOL YEARBOOK

The 2011 Middle School yearbook is now on sale. Order on or BEFORE February 15 to receive a special reduced rate of $45. Price will go up after February 16. Fill in the information below and return to either Mrs. Murray (257) or Mrs. Pullo (262) by the deadline.

As an added feature you may now purchase your yearbook online using Visa or MasterCard. ## TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

So what IS the truth about “hoodies”? Well here is the “dish...”

The truth is that beginning next school year (2011-2012) Coral Springs Charter School will no longer allow ANY “hoodies.” A “hoodie” is considered to be a sweatshirt or a jacket with an attached hood. Our School Advisory Council (SAC) recently approved this new rule and it will be included in the CSCS Addendum to the 2011-2012 Broward County Student Code of Conduct. This decision is based on maintaining a safe school environment for our staff and student body. The “hoods” hide one’s face making it difficult to identify individuals that are on the school grounds.

Did You Know...?

Some students wear “hoodies” in an attempt to conceal the use of ear buds, cell phones and other electronic devices which are not permitted during the school day?

If you can’t handle the truth, the consequence for wearing a “hoodie” beginning August 2011 is that the student will be asked to remove the garment and place it in their locker until the end of the school day. Repeat offenders will be referred to the Dean of Students and administrative actions will be taken.

Well folks, that was the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. The CSCS Discipline Committee hopes this little tidbit will help shed some light upon some of your questions regarding our Code of Conduct and what we at CSCS expect of our students. If you have any other questions you may contact Ms. Washington, High School Assistant Principal or Mr. Horn, Middle School Assistant Principal.

FREE/REDUCED LUNCH FORMS

Parents can apply for free/reduced lunch at any time during the year. Have your student come by the front office and ask for a form. Parents can also pick these forms up at any time. Students who are accepted for the free/reduced lunch program are also eligible to receive fee waivers for the SAT and ACT exams. In addition, fee waivers for students on free/reduced lunch are available for college applications. For more information contact our guidance department.

NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

All students who maintain a 3.0 GPA will be eligible to join NJHS in the spring. Please note that each applicant must have 30 hours of community service completed to be eligible for membership.

HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOK

The year is halfway over! Do not forget to order your yearbooks as soon as possible! Prices are currently $70 and will go up once again to $80 come May 1st. Do not delay! Yearbook order forms can be picked up by the panther or you can order online at www.yearbookforever.com. If ordering online, a credit card may be used. If filling out a paper form, please bring either cash or check to Ms. Moore in room 205, right next to the panther in the main lobby.

Senior tributes are going fast! There are currently only a few spots remaining. If interested, please see Ms. Moore in room 205 or feel free to e-mail her at tmoore@coralspringscharter.org.

CSCS READS (Reading Enriches Academic Development Success)

Read 6 novels (independent of the school curriculum) between February 1 and June 1, and complete a typed or written response for each novel and hand it in to your Period 1 teacher through SIS or in person. There will be a reward for all students who fulfill the requirements. If you exceed the limit of books read, you will be entered into a special drawing to win a new Kindle or Nook, gift cards or other prizes. The more you read, the more you can win. For more information, please see your first period teacher.

So begin reading now....

ACE ACADEMY

Students who have already expressed an interest in the ACE Academy, will receive a packet during the week of February 14, in time to schedule classes for next year. The ACE Academy is a comprehensive program designed to provide students the essentials they need to find success in a competitive and challenging college and business environment. A four year commitment offers opportunities for Industry Certification, Life Skills Development, Gold Seal and Business & Technology Scholarships and the Executive Internship. For more information contact Mrs. Hoo at dhoo@coralspringscharter.org or call 954-340-4100.

FEBRUARY WITH THE HUMAN RELATIONS COUNCIL

Just a reminder that UNITOWN is February 19 to 21 (Monday February 21 is a holiday). If interested, complete an application and send with a $50 check payable to the City of Coral Springs to reserve a space. If your student is attending, the City will send need to know details. Please check your mail. UNITOWN is highly rated by students who have attended this once in a lifetime opportunity and we are sure your student will also enjoy it.

February is also Black History Month and this year students will learn about African-Americans and the Civil War. Student works will be on display in our Lobby from February 16 to 23. For more information contact Mrs. Hoo at dhoo@coralspringscharter.org or call 954 340-4100

2011-2012 ACE EXECUTIVE INTERNSHIPS

We are pleased to share that we received many inquiries about the Executive Internships as a result of the ACE Academy presentation at the HS Parent University in October. The internship runs all year during period 4 and students get the opportunity to earn 2 honors credits as well as gain invaluable experience for college/workforce/career. Juniors interested in an Executive Internship in senior year should attend the Information Session on February 8, at 1:35pm in the Auditorium. Sign up in Guidance and get a pass by February 4. For more information contact Mrs. Hoo at dhoo@coralspringscharter.org or call 954-340-4100.

GUIDANCE CORNER

Guidance/Parent Connection

All students can learn. A student who is troubled, however, cannot learn as easily. School counselors can help. Divorce, substance abuse, child abuse, poverty, violence and suicidal thoughts are among the social stressors placing numerous students at-risk of educational failure and dropping out of school. Early intervention is essential, and parents and guardians play a vital role. A guidance program that provides direct services and is directed by a professionally trained school counselor is a critical component of a school's prevention efforts in the 21st century.

As a parent, your past experiences with a school counselor may be vastly different than what your child will have. Today school counselors are certified, specially trained mental health professionals who focus on prevention and wellness through a counseling program that meets the needs of all students, not just a few. The counseling program addresses three areas: academic, career and personal/social. School counselors advocate, mediate, coordinate, consult, lead and collaborate with teachers, administrators and parents to help students be successful. Professional school counselors also help children to understand themselves.

But just what do school counselors do? Today's school counselors:

- Develop a guidance plan based on a campus needs assessment
- Counsel students individually and/or in groups
- Provide systematic and developmental classroom guidance to all students
- Respond to student needs in crisis situations
- Orient students to new school settings
- Work with absentees, potential dropouts and other at-risk students
- Refer students to special programs and/or services when necessary
- Analyze test results to provide information about abilities, achievement, interests and needs
- Help with individual school, college, and career plans; coordinate school-to-work initiatives and with post-secondary institutions
- Coordinate efforts with other school specialists
- Conduct conferences with parents and facilitate parent discussion groups
- Coordinate staff support activities
- Adhere to ethical and legal standards
- Pursue continuous professional growth and development
- Conduct an annual evaluation of the guidance program

All of these activities and duties can make a real difference in students' lives, improving their self-understanding and self-confidence, motivation, decision-making, goal-setting, planning and problem solving, interpersonal relationships, communication skills, respect for others and more.

Contacting the School Counselor

Parents contact a school counselor to help their children with a variety of issues, such as academic achievement; new school registration, orientation and transition; test interpretation; special needs; student crisis situations; family transitions; and higher education issues.

When contacting a school counselor, parents often have many obstacles to overcome, such as culture, language, and their own bad experiences in school, a lack of understanding or feeling intimidated. Some parents may feel if they speak up and disagree with educators, their child will have a harder time at school. Work schedules can also be barriers to meeting with your child's school counselor. However, school encourages parental involvement, and the school counselor is the primary contact for many parents in connecting with the school.

By focusing on parents' concerns and respecting why these concerns matter to you, school counselors offer options, including better ways to communicate with your child. Both parents and counselors share information, an important part of establishing a helping relationship. School counselors are excellent resources; however, they do not provide therapy or long-term counseling. Referrals to outside agencies may be initiated at school. School counselors are also advocates for children and provide information on parents' rights, such as the right to request information.

Following are some questions you might want to ask your child's school counselor:

- How is my child doing in school?
- What are my child's strengths and weaknesses?
- Are there any areas of concerns or delayed development?
- What are my child's goals for this year?
- What are some suggestions for action at home?
- What programs are available to help my child to do better?
- Does my child get along well with adults?
- Does my child get along well with his/her peers?
- What can I do to improve discipline at home?
- Are there ways I can improve communication with my child?
- What can I expect after a change in the family (death, divorce, illness, financial status, moving)?
- If my child is (running away from home, being disrespectful, having other problems), what should I do?
- What resources are available at school?
- What resources are available outside of school?
- What do I need to do to prepare my child for college admission?
- What are the best resources for information on financial assistance and scholarships?
- What do I do? My child is (sad, not sleeping, not eating, overeating, has temper tantrums, etc.)
- What do I do if I don't like my child's friends?

Studies have shown that children have greater academic achievement when their parents are involved in their education. Motivation, positive attitudes about self and sense of control over their environment improve with parental involvement in the schools.

You, the parent, are the most important resource for the school counselor and others. Your involvement is critical in helping your child to be successful. Ask the school counselor how you can be more involved in what is happening with your child's education.

Brenda Melton, M.Ed., LPC, is a school counselor at Navarro Academy, an alternative school in San Antonio, Texas, and a former board president of the American School Counselor Association.
